A gala evening was hosted on the first day of the summit. A fashion show by Raghavendra Rathore, an internationally trained Indian fashion designer was organised. His made-to-measure luxury tailored ethnic Indian costumes especially curated for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration of AIMA were appreciated by the audience. The show also saw for the first time AIMA office bearers walking the ramp. All the past AIMA presidents were called on stage to cut a cake. Karan Singh, an 'illusionist' captivated the audience with several performances. The evening ended with dinner hosted for all the participants.
