Institutions will need to adjust their calendar [during Covid-19 times] to allow students to do industry internships towards the end of the programme. Campus placements will shift from a 'mela model' to an 'engagement model' where offers will be made based on performance in the internship or projects. Internships will shift from 'on site' to 'from home' and selection process will move from 'at campus' to 'from home' on platforms like 'Zoom' or 'Teams'. Institutions that have demonstrated agility and innovativeness to ride the new normal may emerge as surprise winners as the schools have witnessed a robust demand for its graduating participants in terms of PPOs and internship offers.
